The Giants raked in a game out of the wet yesterday after the Brooklyns had all but raked it in themselves. A cold clammy afternoon and a perilous ninth inning gave the spectators goose flesh in double layers. Hitting rallies in the ninth and bad throws, the latter caused by the rain soaked ball, made that inning one of recurrent excitement, and Managers Mc-Graw and Dahlen tried various moves in order to outdo each other in the seething windup. Reserves were rushed in in pinches, McGraw's reserves, having the last stand. at the bat, assisted in a two run rally in the ninth which was a winning counter irritant for the distress inflicted by a three run rally in Brooklyn's half of the ninth, the New Yorks being two runs ahead on the eve of the fighting, finicky finale.

Rain got in the game much earlier than the Brooklyns. A Scotch mist hung over the highlands from the third inning on, but the highlands from the third inning on, our for eight innings the Brooklyns were dor-mant. It looked as if Leon Ames were going to breeze through to victory for once. He pitched a sterling game in all except the ninth, and with a jump on the the ninth, and with a jump on his out. He struck out eleven batters, in which total was included three strike outs by Wheat, who ordinarily wields a potent

The splendid pitching of Ames got the Giants out of difficulties several times before he finally struck a situation which overcame him. SCHOOL ATHLETIC WAR ENDS

HIGH SCHOOL PRINCIPALS GIVE WAY TO P. S. A. L.

Agreement Reached at Conference of George W. Wingate and Dr. John Denbigh—Amendments to Bylaws Give Final Power to the League.

The dispute between the board of di-rectors of the Public Schools Athletic League and the high school principals, which began last fall and waxed increasingly warmer until as a climax the latter with-drew from the league, was settled on Tuesday as suddenly as it began, as a result of a conference of President George W. Win-gate with Dr. John Denbigh of Morris High school, who was selected some time ago as the spokesman of the principals. The agreement which was reached was not an-nounced until last night, when Gen. Wingate issued a statement explaining the matter. As happened last winter when a temporary truce was reached between Gen. Wingate and the high school heads the P. S. A. L. Games Postponed.

Rain prevented three games in the American League yesterday. Only the White Sox and Browns played and the Mile Sox and Browns played and the Ingn school heads the P. S. A. L. has the better of the bargain. As soon as the companies of the property of the bargain and the high school heads the P. S. A. L. has the better of the bargain. As soon as the companies of the companies of the companies of the companies of the particular and the high schools are the companies of the comp they always have been.

The situation is summed up in the amendments to the bylaws of the league which have been drawn up tentatively by Gen. Wingate and serve as a basis of the agreement. They represent a promise on the part of the P. S. A. L. to carry into effect certain measures and an agreement on the part of the principals to accept them without further objection. The details of the meeting on Tuesday have not been revealed and it is not known whether any principals other than Dr. Denbigh attended, but if this was not the case it is at least certain that the Morris High School principal was empowered to make terms for the principals was empowered to make terms for the principals. Another report which is yet unofficial is that a meeting of the athletic committee of the Apard of Education had something to do with the compromise.

The amendments which have just been drafted are almost identical with those which were offered when the attempt was made to patch up the trouble last winter. The first set provided that the high schools considered himself injured by any of the actions of these committees he might appeal to the games committee. At the suggestion of Gustavus Ruby and Dr. Maxwell these amendments were changed so that the games committee had power to investigate any action of the high school committee on its own initiative. It was this clause to which the principals particularly objected, and which started the trouble anew. It is retained, however, in the present amendments, and in this respect the league has gained a victory.

peal is made to the games committee it shall upon finding anything improper refer the case to the principal of the school which is Alfred de Oro, who is defending his title as pool champion against Jerome Keogh of Rochester, retained his lead at the end of the second night's play, the total scores being 411 to 344. Keogh started off well and in the first five frames cut down De Oro's lead. He gathered in all fifteen balls in the first frame and again in the fourth and in these frame and again in the fourth and in these frames made 47 points to 28 for De Oro.

Then the champion did better. As usual he took all chances and pushed his luck for all it was worth. He made some brilliant combinations and in five frames, from the tenth to the fourteenth inclusive, he gathered in 71 balls out of the 75. Then he rested, while Keogh did better, taking in five frames 67 balls. In the last five De Oro again went ahead, pocketing 50 balls to 25 by Keogh.

The match will end to-night. De Oro has to make 187 while Keogh gets 256 and unless Keogh shows some marked change of form De Oro will retain the championship and win the purse and gate receipts.

Negotiations for a battle between these boys have been of for several months. The original offer made by the club for the battle was turned down by McFarland. This offer held up a purse of $7,000, which was to be divided $5,000 to the winner and $2,000 to the loser. McFarland then suggested that as he was not very well acquainted with the rules of the English prize ring the club guarantee him $5,000, win or lose. Besides agrreing to McFarland's guarantee proposition Mr. Bettinson also agrees to pay him $5,000 for training expenses and 33-1-3 per cent of the moving picture money. The boys will fight at 133 pounds, the weight to be taken at 2 o'clock the day of the fight.
